

THE ARMY

New Colonels

London, Apr. 8.
Lieutenant-Colonel Alleyne F. Chater, R.E., who is promoted colonel to-day, is 48 and has served since 1907.

He has been in India as acting major, staff officer, R.E., and brigade major, and has taken part in operations in the Abor country, in Mesopotamia and Persia, and against the Mohmands and Swahis. He was appointed Commandant of King George's Own Bengal Sappers and Miners in 1933.

The consequent promotions in the R.E. are of Major Reginald W. Cardew, M.C., India, to lieutenant-colonel and of Captain Henry O. Pottle, M.C., Egypt, to major.

Major Harold V. von S. Thorne, who is promoted lieutenant-colonel in the Royal Corps of Signals, was commissioned into the Royal Inland Fusiliers from the ranks during the War, and has been employed at the War Office and in Egypt. Two captains of The Royal Corps of Signals get majorities—Captains E. L. Farnall and A. J. Hannah.

THE BURSAR OF CLIFTON

Colonel G. E. Badcock, C.B.E., D.S.O., whose retirement is announced to-day, joined the Army Service Corps in June, 1904, after being educated at Wellington College and Pembroke College, Cambridge. He went to Gallipoli in 1915 as D.A.D.T., and in October of that year he was appointed Assistant Director of Transport, a position he held till February, 1919. For his services he received the brevet of Lieutenant-Colonel, the C.B.E., the D.S.O., and four mentions in dispatches. From 1919 to 1922 he served at the War Office as D.A.D.T., and from 1922 to 1925 he served as O.C. R.A.S.C., Bermuda. In 1927 he was in China as O.C. R.A.S.C., Independent Brigade. From 1929 to 1931 he was Chief Instructor, R.A.S.C., Training College, and was then promoted to substantive colonel, and went as an instructor to the Senior Officers' School, Sheerness. In 1934 he was appointed A.Q.M.G. (Movements) at the War Office, and before the completion of his tenure resigned in order to take up the secretaryship and bursarship of Clifton College. Lieutenant-Colonel H. F. Grant-Stutt, D.S.O., M.C., who has succeeded him at the War Office, is promoted colonel to-day.

SKILL-AT-ARMS CERTIFICATES

The Duke of York has consented to present 12 certificates for the competitors who are placed first, second, and third in foil, epee, sabre, and bayonet competitions at the Royal Tournament. These certificates will take the place of those previously presented by the King when Prince of Wales.

THE KING INSPECTS GRENADIERS

Battalion He Served With In France

London, Apr. 8

The King went to Chelsea Barracks yesterday afternoon to inspect the 3rd Battalion of the Grenadier Guards, who have just returned from service in Egypt. He wore the uniform of Colonel-in-Chief of the Brigade of Guards.

It was with the 3rd Battalion of the Grenadiers that the King saw active service in France during the war.

The inspection was his last public engagement before leaving London for the Easter holidays. It was the third time he had inspected a Guards battalion since his accession. He first saw the Welsh Guards on St. David's Day, and then the 1st Grenadiers before they left for Egypt.

The King was received with a royal salute from the battalion drawn up in a double line right across the parade ground. The men were in Service khaki uniform with grey greatcoats.

Lieutenant-Colonel C. R. Britten, in command of the battalion, was the only officer who did not salute the King with a drawn sword. Instead he raised his left hand to the salute. His right arm was disabled in the war.

The King, with Lieutenant-Colonel Britten and Major-General B. N. Sergison-Brooke (G.O.C. the London District), walked down the line inspecting the men.

Afterwards he took the salute at the march-past, and then went into the men's quarters and spoke to them for a few minutes.

21 YEARS OF TOC H

Duchess Of York To Attend Celebrations

London, Apr. 17.
Arrangements are well advanced for the celebration of the 21 years' activity of Toc H, described by its founder, the Rev. P. T. B. Clayton, Vicar of All Hallows, Barking, by the Tower, as a movement "to teach the younger generation class-reconciliation and unselfish service."

The coming-of-age festival will be held in London from June 21 to June 28, and there will be other events in provincial centres during the preceding and succeeding weeks. Over 300 visitors from distant parts of the Empire are expected at the London celebrations, including a contingent of about 60 from South Africa.

On June 23 there will be a meeting at the Mansion House, presided over by the Lord Mayor. The Duchess of York will attend on June 26, when the League of Women Helpers of Toc H will hold their festival at Crystal Palace, and will also be present at the service to be held at St. Paul's Cathedral on the same day. A feature of the festival will be a service of dedication, to be held at St. Paul's Cathedral on June 22, and the celebrations will conclude with a service of thanksgiving in the Albert Hall on June 28.

INCOMPATIBILITY OF STARS

Viennese Wife's Reason For Separation

Vienna, Apr. 8.

A Viennese Court has granted a separation order to a plaintiff whose wife had left him for the strange reason that he was born under a star unsympathetic to her own. The two had been happily married for 10 years, the husband, as his wife stated, having originally been given preference over two other suitors because he had been born on August 18, when the Lion was in the ascendant. This, as she had learned from his horoscope, predestined him to be an ideal mate for a woman who, like herself, had been born under Aquarius, the water-carrier.

But after 10 years the husband told the wife that his birthday was really August 28 and not August 18. He claimed that the mistake was due to the priest who filled up his birth certificate, but she alleged that he had known of her faith in astrology and used this artifice to win her. In any case, from the moment of his confession he became repugnant to her. She consulted the firmament and found that she could not possibly live any longer with a man who had really been born under Virgo, a constellation antagonistic to Aquarius.

In Court the wife inflexibly maintained that she was wont to look to the stars for guidance in all her actions, and could only be happy with a man born under the sign of the Lion, whereof the Court gave a separation order, with the rider that blame for the rupture of the union rested with the wife alone.

THREATS TO KILL EDDIE CANTOR

New York, April 8.

Eddie Cantor, the film star, has been threatened with death unless he ceases anti-Nazi activities.

The threat has come in mysterious messages from unknown sources.

Messages, which have come by phone and letter, also threaten the safety of his wife and five daughters.

But when I asked Cantor about the threats to-day he said he was not perturbed.

Addressing a Jewish dinner party, at which he was the guest of honour, he accused the German Government of sending $10,000,000 into America mainly for fomenting anti-Semitism.

Wireless commentators and magazine writers in New York were, he alleged, being bribed to be friendly to Nazis.

Eddie has become the hope of millions of Jews as a leader of an anti-Nazi campaign.

He says that, beginning next month, he will dedicate time to working for the emigration of Jewish children from Germany to Palestine.

ENGINEERING AND BUILDING

THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE MERSEY TUNNEL

A Full Description Given

A paper on "The Construction of the Mersey Tunnel" was read before the Institution of Civil Engineers by Mr. David Anderson on Tuesday, March 10. A full description of this important civil engineering work, which was opened by H.M. King George V on July 18, 1934, together with details of the ventilating plant and other equipment, has already been published in Engineering, but we may add some supplementary information from this latest communication.

The under-river portion of the tunnel, which is 5,204 ft. long, is a complete circle of 44 ft. internal diameter and is constructed of cast-iron rings. The remainder of the main tunnel has a semi-circular upper portion, either of cast-iron or of steel ribs and concrete with a concrete invert. On one short length a cast-iron invert is used. The branch tunnels are of similar construction, though the semi-circle is only 26 ft. 8 in. in diameter. The cast-iron lining was constructed in the way usual for tube railways and under-river tunnels.

TUNNEL SITE

As the site of the tunnel lay in the Upper and Middle Bunter sandstone beds blasting was employed; the following procedure being adopted in the pilot headings. The excavation of the upper 7 ft. of the face was kept from 8 ft. to 10 ft. in advance of the lower portion, thus forming a convenient work bench. Four horizontal holes 5 ft. long were drilled in a converging direction in the centre of this drift to create a conical cut. Around this a further series of holes were drilled, their direction gradually fanning out until that of the last series on the perimeter was parallel to that of the tunnel. The holes, beginning at the central cut, were then charged with gelignite, 1 lb. per hole being used at the cut, diminishing to 1 lb. per hole at the trimmer series. These charges were fitted with mercury-fulminate detonators and a 6 ft. length of black fuse and were ignited by hand in correct rotation. The result of a round gave a progress of from 3 ft. to 4 ft. After the removal of the excavated rock from the drift an equivalent length of benching was drilled horizontally and vertically and blasted. Progress averaged 40 ft. per week of 110 hours. The excavation in the "break ups" from the pilot headings for the upper portion of the main tunnel was carried out by using the pilot heading as a cut-shot and blasting the rock towards this cavity. The lower portion was blasted down from the rock floor into the crown of the bottom heading and the gorge thus created was then worked out to the full sections.

CHUTES CUT

To remove the spoil excavated from the upper portion chutes were cut in the rock from axis level of the full section to the crown of the lower heading. The spoil was then tipped directly into the wagons and hauled to the shafts. The excavation from the lower half was hoisted to a working road, which was slung from

SHEFFIELD STEEL ACTIVE

Important works extensions are taking place in several directions. In the production of raw and semi-finished additional furnaces are being laid down, while the demand for stainless steel has expanded so much that several firms have been compelled to extend productive capacity. In one instance two electric furnaces—one of 20 tons and the other 10 tons capacity—have been laid down. Another firm is considering the erection of the largest electric furnace in Europe. In the heavy machinery and engineering branches, new plant, including forging presses, rolling mills, and lathes, and other finishing machines are being installed. The market in basic and acid steels and similar materials is as active as ever. Current output is well up to the standard of that of January, when gross production reached a record level. Rolling mills, foundries, and press shops are all working at high pressure. There is a good demand for bars, rods, sheets, and strip. Makers of structural steel are handling more inquiries; they have good prospects. The railway rolling-stock position shows little change. Makers could comfortably handle a bigger volume of business. Overseas requirements are not substantial. A revival of trade with India is eagerly anticipated. Deliveries of forgings and castings to shipyards having a direct association with this area have been maintained. Makers of all types of boilers are busy, while those departments concentrating on the manufacture of hollow forgings and boiler drums are doing a good trade. Electrical extensions, oil-refining and hydrogenation schemes in various parts of the world are calling for these products, some being of record size. Further headway is reported by firms turning out automobile steel and fittings, while aircraft requirements reach a high level. The tool branches are operating at high pressure. Engineers' small tools are progressive media. Among the busiest lines are precision implements, twist drills, hacksaws and blades, and files. Sheffield Chamber of Commerce is handling more inquiries on both home and overseas account. Among the latest are: from Baghdad for twist drills; from Dudley Port for spring-steel strip; from London for sharpening machinery and steel cutters; from Dublin for steel stamping dies and cutters; from Leven for mild-steel rods; and from Manchester for sledge hammers.

DESULPHURISATION OF IRON BY SODIUM CARBONATE

The use of sodium carbonate as a refining flux in the manufacture of high-grade engineering iron castings has been referred to in our columns on several occasions. A striking demonstration of its value in producing clean and close-grained castings on a large scale has been furnished by the recent completion of a contract for a 10,000 cub. ft. compressor placed with Messrs. Walker Brothers (Wigan), Limited, Pagefield Iron Works, Wigan, by Messrs. Anglo-American Mining Corporation, of South Africa. Included in the machine are nearly 250 tons of cylinder, flywheel and other castings, varying in weight from 20 tons, the largest cylinder casting, down to a few pounds, and the total quantity of rejected castings was under 5 cwt. The mould for the 20-ton cylinder casting took nearly three months to prepare. The test pressure of the six cylinders of the machine ranged from 280 lb. per square inch down to 100 lb. per square inch, and we understand that each cylinder passed its test on the first occasion. A handsome brochure, consisting of reproductions of photographs showing the work in various stages, has been published by Messrs. Imperial Chemical Industries, Limited, Imperial Chemical, Boyce, Millbank, London, S.W.1, the suppliers of the sodium carbonate used for the work. The illustrations indicate clearly the excellent work done by the moulders, the clean appearance of the skin of the castings, and the very fine machined surfaces which it was possible to obtain.

It is pleasing to be able to put on record that at Potters Limited we have a fine Apprenticeship Scheme in operation, full particulars of which can be obtained on application. This scheme embodies the training of premium, purple, trade apprentices, and vacation students. In addition to this, we have a post graduate course. It is essential, however, that engineering apprenticeship becomes national if we are to maintain that high reputation for our manufactured goods which we so prize.—E.P.W.

LEVANT FAIR

Colonial Secretary's Address

London, April 30.
The Colonial Secretary, Mr. J. H. Thomas delivered by wireless an address at the opening of the International Levant Fair at Tel Aviv today. Speaking of the success of the fair two years ago he said over two thousand exhibiting firms from thirty two countries participated and the attendance numbered 600,000. "Naturally the unhappy events of the last two weeks have cast a deep shadow upon this occasion but I am confident these sad happenings will not prevent the fair from repeating and surpassing the remarkable success of two years ago."

INSURING HULLS OF VESSELS

Committee of Enquiry Formed

London, April 30.
The Board of Trade have appointed a committee to enquire into the present system of insuring hulls of vessels in the light of the recent judicial comments on insured values of ships for total loss.

GERMAN CREDIT

Question Asked

London, April 30.
The Chancellor of the Exchequer, asked in the House of Commons whether he was aware that several banks had granted German borrowers short term credits and whether in view of the fact such credit transactions procured additional foreign exchange resources enabling the German Government to increase its raw material imports for rearmament he would discourage granting of new credits to German borrowers, replied he was not aware of any such credits. He could, however, assure the House the question had not been overlooked and was ever present in the minds of the appropriate authorities. He had no reason to believe the banking community as a whole were acting other than in accordance with the general feeling of the House.

MORE VISITORS TO ENGLAND

London, April 30.
The number of visitors to the British Isles both on holiday and on business from foreign countries during the first three months of this year showed a substantial increase of 9,819 over the total of 42,122 for the same period of 1935.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON SERMON

First Church Of Christ, Scientist

Subject:—"Everlasting Punishment."

The subject of the lesson Sermon in all churches of Christ, Scientist, to-morrow, May 3 will be: "Everlasting Punishment"

The Golden Text will be: "There is no peace, saith the Lord, unto the wicked." (Isaiah 48: 22).

Among others, the following citations from the Bible will be read: "For I know that in me (that is, in my flesh), dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me; but how to perform that which is good I find not. For the good that I would do not; but the evil which I would not, that I do. Now if I do that I would not, it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me."

I find then a law, that, when I would do good, evil is present with me. For I delight in the law of God after the inward man; But I see another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin which is in my members. (Rom. 7: 18-23).

The Lesson Sermon will also include the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Evil has no reality. It is neither person, place, nor thing, but is simply a belief, an illusion of material sense. Evil is but the counterpoise of nothingness. The greatest wrong is but a supposition of nothingness. The greatest right is but a supposition of nothingness. The confidence inspired by Science lies in the fact that Truth is real and error is unreal."

To get rid of sin through Science, is to divest sin of any supposed mind or reality, and never to admit that sin can have intelligence or power, pain or pleasure. You conquer error by denying its verity. Our various theories will never lose their imaginary power for good or evil, until we lose our faith in them and make life its own proof of harmony and God. (Pages 71, 367 and 339).

GERMAN PEACE PROPOSALS

Locarno Powers Seek More Information

London, April 30.

When the Locarno signatories other than Germany ended their last conversations in Geneva on April 10 it was agreed that the British representatives should get into touch with the German Government to obtain elucidations of a certain number of points in the German memorandum of March 31. The importance of this stage in negotiations following the events of March 7 is fully understood in London and the British Government is giving the most careful consideration to the questions which it will address to Herr Hitler's Government. Although the Government is acting at the request of the other powers which adhere to the Locarno Treaty form, the matter of the approach to Berlin was left entirely to its discretion. There was a special meeting of the Cabinet this morning which is believed to have been concerned with the communication to be made to the German Government which it is now anticipated will be despatched through diplomatic channels some time early next week.

RUSSIA AND THE NAVAL AGREEMENT

To Begin Talk With England

London, April 30.

After the naval treaty was signed in London on March 25 copies of the agreements were communicated to the other naval powers, both members and non-members of the League of Nations and the British Government undertook to enter into conversations with a view to securing wider application of the principles embodied in the four-power treaty.

The Russian Ambassador in London has informed the Foreign Secretary of the willingness of his Government to co-operate with the British Government in such discussions and it is understood that the Russian Naval Attaché who had been absent from London will shortly be returning with his Government's instructions to begin exchange of views.

INDIA ACT

Sir Otto Niemeyer's Report

London, April 30.

The report of Sir Otto Niemeyer on the financial position of the Indian provinces and Central Government is published. The object of the enquiry was to provide the Imperial Government with information required for the drafting of orders under the Government of India Act for the allocation of certain resources between the Central and Provincial Government which is the most important outstanding preliminary to the inauguration of new reform in the Provinces. Sir Otto concludes, "His Majesty's Government may safely propose to Parliament that Part Three of the Government of India Act should be brought into operation a year hence." He has formed the opinion, "the budgetary prospects of India, given the prudent management of her finances, justify the view that adequate assignments can be made step by step to meet the financial implications of the new constitution." In the detailed proposals submitted the paramount importance upon which the report insists on preserving the stability of central finances has been kept carefully in mind.

AN ENGLISH WIFE

Son Of Murdered Archduke Of Austria

Vienna, Apr. 6.
An English girl is to marry the son of the man whose assassination caused the Great War.
She is Miss Maria Theresa Wood, daughter of a former military attaché at the British Embassy in Vienna. Her fiancé is Prince Ernst von Hohenberg, second son of Archduke Franz Ferdinand, who was assassinated at Sarajevo on June 28, 1914. The assassination led to an Austrian ultimatum to Serbia, from which the Great War began.
Prince Ernst, 32 years of age, lives at his castle at Haemer, Styria.
Captain George Jarvis Wood, Miss Wood's father, told me to day his daughter was born in Vienna and has lived here all her life. She is 25.
"We have known the Archduke's family for many years. It was military attaché at the British Embassy when he was assassinated. I knew him personally."

RELATED TO ARCHDUKE

"We are related to him through my wife, formerly Countess Lonyay. My daughter was schooled in Vienna and completed her studies some time ago. She has been studying music and drawing. She first met the Prince about five years ago. They became engaged two days ago.
"The wedding will take place at a Vienna church-noon, but nothing definite has been fixed. Afterwards they will live at the Prince's castle at Haemer.
"Prince Ernst's elder brother, Duke Max Hohenberg, is the leader of the Austrian Legation, who is working for the restoration of the Habsburgs."

TWO FISTED

"Two Fisted" Paramount's sparkling comedy romance of the lively adventures of two low-brows who break into high brow society, comes to the Queen's Theatre at an early date.

"Two Fisted" is a rollicking screen adaptation of an original story by James Gleason and Richard Taber and pictures the breezy events of a prize fighter manager and his dumb pug when a chance meeting with a Park Avenue play boy crashes them into the swanky 400 via the butler route.

Lee Tracy, Gail Patrick and Kent Taylor are featured in the laugh provoking comedy romance. There are breezy situations following in rapid order.

Light hearted fun refreshing and swift paced action distinguish the film.

Grace Bradley, Roscoe Karns, Samuel Hinds, Billy Lee and Florence Lake are in the supporting cast.

"BROADWAY GONDOLIER"

At The Oriental Theatre

Movie makers feel proud when they have one song hit in a screen musical. Now Warner Brothers come forward with a picture in which no less than six songs are confidently expected to become outstanding hits.

The picture is "Broadway Gondolier" which comes to the Oriental Theatre on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Powell and Joan Blondell, popular stars are reunited. Together with Adolphe Menjou and Louise Fazenda they head the all star cast.

In addition to the singing of the popular Dick Powell, the catchy airs are ably presented by three groups of radio favourites, the Four Mills Brothers, Red Rizzo with his nationally famed

DESIRE

IS GRAND ENTERTAINMENT

The promise of exceptional screen entertainment should fill the Queen's Theatre to-day, with Dietrich fans, Cooper fans, and those who like to see them together.

"Desire" reveals a new Marlene Dietrich, glamorous in a different way from her past creations, and a Gary Cooper who turned in as fine a performance as he has ever given.

This screen couple admirably complement one another. Miss Dietrich is the creature of allure and mystery, the personality of fire and ice. Gary Cooper, her dynamic opposite, is easy going, smiling and refuses to let himself be hurried out of his stride in this ardent romance.

Miss Dietrich as a breath-taking Continental beauty, is used by a gang of master crooks to purloin a string of costly pearls, and accomplishes the job with finesse. She asks a leading Parisian jeweler to deliver the pearls to her so-called husband, a famous psychiatrist to ask him to examine the jeweler, whom she represents as her mentally deranged spouse. In the ensuing comedy of errors, she makes off with the jewels.

In her flight the siren meets an American, played by Gary Cooper. Perfect fools, they skirmish in a lively give and take of comedy which moves into a romance by easy stages.

THE BOHEMIAN GIRL

A succession of bright, new gags interspersed through a delightful story that is embellished with superb music goes to make the Laurel and Hardy full-length feature, "The Bohemian Girl," one of the new year's best screen offerings to date.

Oldsters may wonder at the disparity between the original Balfe opera and the screen version as presented at the King's and Alhambra Theatre to-day but they will enjoy the modern film story no less because of its more hilarious treatment. Then, too, their misgivings will be appeased by the fact that most of the entrancing music of the century-old opera has been retained in the Laurel and Hardy translation.

Laurel and Hardy fans were especially happy to-day to see so much of their favourite in their new production. "The Bohemian Girl" is in fact a one hundred per cent Laurel and Hardy comedy with the grand music and intriguing romance thrown in for good measure.

Stan and "Ollie" as members of a notorious gypsy band give performances that will long be remembered. More than ever before they resort to pantomime and gags to win deserved laughs. Several brand new comedy routines are exceedingly funny. Their sequences with baby Arline, whom they "mother," are masterful bits of serio-comic screen interpretations.

WORLD FLIGHT IN 21 DAYS

Jim Mollison To Make Flight Bid This Summer

London, Apr. 13. Jim Mollison, who arrived at Batavia from Australia on Saturday, said he intended to attempt a round-the-world flight in 21 days this summer, and was confident of success.

He said that if his wife did not recapture the Cape record in her next attempt he would make an attempt himself.

"I regard that record as a family affair," he said. Jim Mollison held the record in March, 1932. Mrs. Mollison beat his time of 4 days 14 hours 19 minutes by 11 hours in October of the same year.

MISS STAMMERS

DEFEATS MISS NUTHALL IN FINAL

London, April 11.

Roehampton this afternoon had a more than usually attractive women's lawn tennis final—the attempt of Miss Betty Nuthall, inactive all last season, to reassert herself against the Number One of England, Miss K. Stammers.

Miss Nuthall has been playing big lawn tennis about four times as long as the other; yet in age she is less than three years the senior.

There was half an hour's delay because of rain, and then Miss Nuthall lost the first set 2-6 after opening it with tennis of the kind players dream of. Two perfect back hand placements and two unapproachable drop shots brought her the first game. The two remained level until two all, each winning the other's service, with Miss Nuthall's back hand perfect, her forehead dependable, but her service ill poised, as if she were having to stretch for the badly thrown up ball.

Thereafter until the end of the set her game passed from good to not good and her errors increased. Miss Stammers, who was not hitting as hard as usual, but was mixing up her game more, won the last five games of the set for 6-2.

Miss Nuthall's lawn tennis sin of inconsistency continued to goad her in the second set, which, like the first, she lost at 2-8. In the last game she led 40-love and then served two double faults—a process which had occurred in an earlier game.

Miss Stammer was able, in the latter half of the match, to do more of the attacking and besides being much fleetlier than her opponent her play possessed equal aggression and much more dependability.

THE MEN'S FINAL

Rain interrupted the men's final between C. E. Haré and R. T. Tiney, of America—after the Englishman had won the first set 6-1 and lost the second 4-6. Tiney is a much quieter type of player than most of his fellow-countrymen, with nothing remarkable in

BANK OF CHINA'S ACTIVITIES

Representation In New York And Singapore

New York, April 9.—China's increasing interest in world finance is shown by the announcement that the Bank of China is to have its own agency in New York.

the way of service or drive, but with a kind of restrained aggression about his play and a disconcerting way of picking up the early ball.

Hare was lucky in finding Tiney quite off colour for the first set, and rather unsteady in dropping the second after catching up from 1-4 to 4-4.

WOMEN'S SINGLES

Final—Miss K. Stammers beat Miss B. Nuthall 6-2, 6-2.

Hitherto the bank has only been represented here by correspondents.

Mr. H. D. R. Burgess, one of the vice-presidents of the Irving Trust Company, who started his banking career in 1919 with the New York branch of the Chartered Bank of India, Australia, and China; and Mr. C. H. Wang, manager of the Chinese Overseas Bank in Shanghai, are to be joint managers of the Bank of China's New York branch, according to an announcement by Mr. T. E. Huser, the bank's legal adviser in New York.

Mr. Wang is expected to arrive in New York in May.

It is learned that the Bank of China will also open a branch in Singapore in the next few weeks.

Officials of the Bank of China, now visiting America, are conferring with Mr. Morgenthau, Secretary of the Treasury.

Their discussions are believed to concern China's management of her currency and the effect upon it of America's silver-purchase policy, which forced China off silver. The Chinese bankers will go to London when their business here is finished.

He was sentenced to three months on the first charge and to six months on the second.

MAGISTRATE APPEARS AS

GIVES EVIDENCE AT AN INQUEST

Mr. S. F. Balfour, Magistrate at the Central Police Court, found his position reversed yesterday when, instead of asking questions, he was questioned himself.

Mr. Balfour was a passenger in a bus in Queen's Road Central on March 25 when a mishap occurred and a woman died following injuries. Yesterday he was called as a witness at the inquest conducted by Mr. W. Schofield.

Immediately he had given his evidence he went into the No. 2 police court where a case had been suspended pending his arrival.

Evidence showed that the bus had run into the rear of a stationary car, which had been knocked forward and jammed the woman, Wong Sun-chor, 62, against a stone pillar. She died in hospital a week later.

Returning a finding of death by misadventure, the jury (Messrs. J. Grady, A. E. Osborne and A. d'Azevedo) recommended that owing to the conflicting evidence of both drivers, they should be severely censured and that the Superintendent of the China Motor Bus Company should give more attention to the brakes.

Inspector Alexander appeared for the police, Mr. M. K. Lo for Mr. W. A. Macrae and Mr. D. B. Evans for the insurers of the bus.

Chief Inspector John Murphy said Li gained admittance to a house in Eastern-street, West Point, by a ruse and when inside, he and accomplices, bundled the occupants into a cubicle, gagged and bound them and stole money and jewellery valued at $165.

POPULAR PAIR DEPART

Sir Thomas And Lady Southern

TEN YEARS IN H.K.

Few public men have gained such high esteem in so short a term of office in Hong Kong as Sir Thomas Southern, former Colonial Secretary and Officer Administering the Government, who, with Lady Southern, will leave to-day.

After exactly 10 years in Hong Kong, Sir Thomas leaves for a holiday in England before taking up his recently appointed post as Governor of The Gambia.

There could have been no greater tribute to the popularity of Sir Thomas and Lady Southern than the gift of the Chinese community during the week—a blackwood screen, on the porcelain surface of which was inscribed in Chinese characters Sir Thomas's career and a eulogy of his achievements.

That the Chinese community should have departed from their old age custom and included, for the first time in the history of the Colony, the wife of a departing official in their formal address, is sufficient indication of the esteem in which both are held.

ENERGETIC WORKER

Lady Southern in particular, has been an energetic worker during her 10 years in Hong Kong, and many organisations here will miss her active interest in their affairs. A leader of many charitable organisations, she was also an enthusiastic executive of the Girl Guides and the healthy progress of that body is due in no small measure to her keen interest. Commissioner for the Girl Guides, she was also President of the Women's International Club, the Society for Protection of Children, Ladies Hockey Club and Philharmonic Society and was, with Sir Thomas, a founder of the Hong Kong branch of the English Association and among its most regular attendants.

A witty speaker and writer, Lady Southern had several of her books published with favourable comments.

Inside and outside his official position, Sir Thomas has achieved great popularity. During his frequent terms as Officer Administering the Government he was often called on to face difficult positions, such as the newly adopted monetary system, and his wise counsel and calm deliberation were noticeable.

KEEN SPORTSMAN

Away from his official duties he was as active a worker as his wife for sporting and charitable institutions. One body that will miss him is the Victoria Recreation Club of which he had been chairman since his arrival. Although other business precluded his attendance at committee meetings, Sir Thomas made a point of presiding at the Club's annual meetings and he was a frequent visitor to their functions.

Among his other activities were the Children's Playgrounds Association, the Society for the Protection of Children and the Hong Kong Football Association.

Sir Thomas was knighted in 1933, and last year Lady Southern was decorated with the Order of the British Empire.

Sir Thomas and Lady Southern will leave Queen's Pier at 11 a.m. to-day. The departure is not a formal affair and their friends are cordially invited to be present.

The many Charitable Organisations in Hong Kong will miss the services of Lady Southern who is leaving the Colony to-day with Sir Thomas Southern.

ALLEGED ASSAULT ON WATCHMAN

DEFENDANTS DISCHARGED

A Chinese doctor, and a shop fook, accused of assaulting a district watchman, while in the execution of his duty, were discharged yesterday by Mr. E. Hims-worth. The assault in question was alleged to have taken place at Canton Road, near Nelson Street, on April 24, as a result of which the district watchman and one of the accused had to go to hospital.

The accused were: Ho Hung Yau (36) described as a Chinese doctor of No. 1089 Canton Road, first floor, and Ho Lai Sang (38) shop fook, of No. 431 Reclamation Street.

Inspector Portation appeared for the prosecution, and the accused were represented by Mr. J. M. D'Almada Remedios.

According to the prosecution, Lam Wing, district watchman No. 24, saw the two accused walking along Canton Road. He stopped the first accused and demanded to search him. The first accused spoke to a little boy walking with them, and this aroused the complainant's suspicions. He attempted to stop the boy from running away, and was assaulted by the two men. He was knocked down, and the first accused managed to break away, but was later arrested in a shop. The second accused was arrested by an Indian constable who came on the scene in answer to police whistles being blown.

ASKED FOR AUTHORITY

Ho Hung in evidence said that he was walking back to the shop with a boy, his nephew, when he was accosted by the complainant. He asked the latter for his authority to search him, and was given a rude reply. He did not strike the complainant, although he (witness) was struck by the watchman. Later in a shop, where he was employed as a doctor he was arrested by an Indian constable. He Lai was in the shop at the time of the original trouble, and only came on the scene after the boy had run to the shop and informed the inmates that there was some trouble further up the street.

This evidence was corroborated by Ho Lai (second accused) and Ho Leung Yu, nephew of both the accused.

Under cross examination by Mr. Remedios, the complainant denied that he had demanded $5 from the first accused, or that he had accosted the latter of passing counterfeit coins.

Mr. Remedios: I put it to you that after the two accused were handed over to the Indian constable, you had no intention of going to the station. You tried to make yourself scarce.

No, this is not true.

Complainant also denied that one Yuen Kau manager of the Pak Wo Tong shop, where first accused was employed, had to

POPULAR FOOTBALLER IS MARRIED

Sportsmen Attend Ceremony

STRANGE—EARDLEY

Prominent footballers were present at the wedding yesterday of Mr. Sidney Herbert Strange, popular Cuh and interlop player, and Miss Eileen Elizabeth Eardley, at St. Joseph's Church.

Mr. Strange is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Strange of London and the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. F. J. Eardley of Shanghai.

Given away by Mr. G. S. Rodger, the bride was dressed in ivory crinkled satin with a train of Princess style. Her tulle veil was caught at the head with orange blossom and she carried a sheaf of arum lilies.

Mrs. Eardley close blue and white flowered French georgette, and the matron of honour, Mrs. G. S. Rodger, was in violet tulle, crepe with lace sleeves, a tighorn hat, fawn accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mr. E. L. Strange, the groom's brother and also a prominent footballer, was best man.

After the ceremony, which was performed by Father John J. Lima, a reception was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Rodger, where many friends gathered.

The honeymoon is being spent at Repus Bay. For her going away dress the bride chose a Nile green suede crepe with a picture hat.

search for him, before he went to the station.

DISCHARGED

In discharging the accused, the Magistrate said in a lengthy summing up, that there were many conflicting aspects of the case. Although there had undoubtedly been a fracas in which both the complainant and the first accused had been injured, neither of the two parties had attempted to get independent witnesses. However he (the Magistrate) had come to the conclusion that the two accused were not together at the time of the assault and that in his opinion the prosecution had failed to prove their case. The serious accusation that the complainant had demanded $5 from the first accused, which was only substantiated by the 14 year old nephew of the first accused, could not be accepted.

The Proven STOMACH REMEDY for Bad Cases

Amazing evidence of the remarkable speed with which indigestion and stomach pains can be stopped has been revealed by medical experiments and X-ray photographs of actual cases. These prove the ingredients of Bisurated Magnesia to be the quickest and most effective known to medicine. Within 5 minutes a stomach full of acid, gas, and indigestion is completely relieved. In cases where indigestion and stomach pain have been long standing, the relief is even more rapid.

Its Action Explained—Simply take a teaspoonful of the powder in a little water. The stomach is soothed, the acid is neutralized, the gas is expelled, the bowels are moved, and the stomach is brought back to its normal state. The result is a feeling of ease and comfort, and the stomach is relieved of its pain.

A NOTED ENGLISH DOCTOR SAYS:
"I find that Bisurated Magnesia taken after my meals is the only thing that keeps me free from pain and discomfort, and I take it regularly. I often prescribe it for my patients, and I have had very good results."
H.C. — M.A., M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.

ANOTHER DOCTOR SAYS:
"Bisurated Magnesia gives excellent results in the treatment of indigestion, stomach pain, flatulence, gastritis, stomach ulcers, and even stomach cancer."

PACIFIC POLICY

The failure to reach an agreement between Japan and the other naval powers foreshadows a state of not merely naval relations in the Pacific. It makes it increasingly imperative that the American people should decide more clearly what aims their country desires to pursue in that part of the world.

It is obvious that the naval and air armaments fully adequate to insure the defense of the United States and its outlying possessions such as Alaska and Hawaii would fall considerably short of the standards necessary to support an aggressive policy in Asia. It is not too soon for Americans to begin to reflect whether they wish American naval power to be cast into the balance in the event of a new Sino-Japanese conflict or in defense of American trade interests in the Far East.

From a purely material standpoint, asserting American interests in China by a policy that would lead to a head-on collision with Japan is emphatically not worth the candle. It is perhaps not generally realized that Japan, despite its smaller size, is a much more valuable customer for the U.S. than is China. During the five-year period, 1926-1930, America's annual exports to Japan averaged $246,036,000 as against $109,021,000 in the case of China. This disparity was even greater in 1935.

What of the moral aspects of the situation? Theoretically world peace might be guaranteed if every power felt morally obligated to employ its armed forces against an aggressor state. But the whole trend of recent events shows that no country is to-day willing to pay such a price for the maintenance of international law and order. A constructive and positive peace policy, for peace in the Pacific, may have to wait as regards some of its details, until a more conciliatory and co-operative mood prevails in Japan. A sense of national isolation and growing financial difficulties may conduce to the appearance of such a mood in a not too distant future.

While the full realization of positive peace policies may lie in the future, American public opinion should at least be able to insure that there shall be no war policies. Foolish provocative speeches and alarmist unfounded accusations against Japan by public men should be condemned and discouraged. Naval and armament policies in the Pacific should be shaped with a view to defense and maintenance of the status quo, not of potential strategic aggression and competition. The enormous technical difficulties, huge cost and probable ultimate political and economic futility of trying to fight a war on the other side of the Pacific should be fully weighed.

It would be a great historical tragedy if the American people should drift into policies that threaten war in the Pacific just when they are groping about for means of staying out of wars in Europe.

JUNK PIRATED

An armed robbery, which occurred on April 29, was reported to the Shaikwan Police yesterday by the master of junk No. TS8038.

The junk sailed from Shaikwan to Nam Ho Chinese territory, with rice and a mixed cargo. When near to Sau Shi Min three small rowing boats were seen to put off from Broken Head and approach the junk. Each rowing boat had in it six men and when they drew near they fired a shot into the water and called on the junk to heave-to. All the six men in each boat were armed with rifles, knives and revolvers.

The robbers climbed on board and covering the people on the junk with their weapons, ordered them into the hold where they were imprisoned with the hatches battened down. The pirates then ransacked the junk and made off with money and clothing to the value of $557.10.

Kho Defeated In Straight Sets

BACKHAND WEAK

Paris, May 1.

In the Davis Cup tennis match to-day Christian Boussus (France) beat Kho Sin-kie (China) 6-0, 6-0, 6-1 in dull weather before a small crowd.

Dr. Wellington Koo was present and this was his first public appearance as Ambassador.

Kho was better in his play than the score indicates. He placed neat forehand drives, but lacked pace. His backhand was weak and being somewhat nervous he was serving double faults at critical moments.

The Chinese player lobbed short, whereas the Frenchman lobbed judiciously. Kho was constantly on the run and took his defeat in very good spirit with a smile.—

TAXATION IN AMERICA

Senate Committee's Investigation

Washington, Apr. 30.

Mr. Henry Morgenthau, Secretary of the Treasury, testifying before the Senate Finance Committee on the new Tax Bill, said it was short of providing the revenue asked by the President in its present form.

Therefore, he said, it was urgent that reconsideration be given to the Administration's proposals for temporary processing taxes. He added that federal credit depended upon the scrupulous adherence to an orderly programme towards a balanced budget and, later, a steady reduction of public debt.

Questioned as to the probable deficit in the next two years, Mr. Morgenthau stated the deficit in the current fiscal year, which includes the entire bonus payment, was now $5,966,000,000 and that in the next fiscal year it would be $2,875,000,000.—

PROGRAMME ATTACKED

Washington, Apr. 30.

At its concluding session, the annual convention of the United States Chambers of Commerce approved a resolution condemning the Administration's tax programme, as retarding recovery and re-employment.

The resolution also attacked Federal control of private production as indefensible and against the public interest. Other resolutions attacked Government competition with private business, and also the attempt to change the Supreme Court and trade agreements facilitating excessive farm imports.

The Chamber approved a survey of the possibility of re-employment by private enterprises, but sharply condemned the Government attempt, by legislative means or executive fiat, to impose upon business rules of conduct in labour relations, as retarding both the material and spiritual progress of the nation.—

ITALIAN MARCH ON ADDIS ABABA

Occupation Expected Next Week

DIFFICULT TERRAIN ENCOUNTERED

Mechanised Detachments Make A Detour

PREMATURE REPORT IN LONDON

(Hong Kong Daily Press Special)

Rome, May 1. The rumours circulating here and in foreign countries that the Italian troops are scheduled to enter Addis Ababa before end of this week has prompted authoritative quarters to state plainly that the military plan for the advance to the capital of Abyssinia provides for careful movement by stages without undue haste, and that probably a full week will pass before Addis Ababa is ultimately occupied.

At the same time the rumours that the former Italian Minister at Addis Ababa, Count Vinci, is on his way thither to take up the post of Governor of the capital, is denied, likewise a rumour that Italy intends to put another Emperor on the throne at present occupied by Haile Salassie.

Asmara, May 1. The advance of the Italian Northern Army to Addis Ababa has been slowed down in view of the exceedingly difficult terrain through which the troops are now passing. The mechanised detachments at certain points were forced to make a detour instead of using the main road. The Askaris, however, are continuing to march on the main road.

Military experts expect that Addis Ababa will be reached by the Italian troops early next week. The next penetration of the district around Lake Tsana meanwhile is being continued, and Lake Tsana itself is already being used as a base by hydroplanes from Massawa.

MAY DAY IN GERMANY

Celebrations On Large Scale

(Hong Kong Daily Press Special)

Berlin, May 1. May Day, which will henceforth be observed in Germany as a "national holiday of the German people" is being celebrated this year throughout the Reich on a larger scale than ever with parades and mass demonstrations everywhere.

The celebrations began here impressively at 8.30 on Friday morning with a mass meeting of the National Socialist Youth Movement in the Berlin Post Stadium which was attended by no fewer than 80,000 boys and girls. The meeting was addressed by Chancellor Hitler and Minister Dr. Goebbels, and the Leader of the Nationalist Youth Organisation, Baldur von Schirach. The speeches were broadcast and relayed by all the German broadcasting stations. From early morning long columns of participants in the main event of the day, a huge mass meeting of the "Workers of the Head and Hand" which this year will take place in Lustgarten Square in front of the former western part of the city, were seen marching to their assigned places from all parts of the capital.

FESTIVE SCENE

Lustgarten Square from where the Chancellor will deliver his address presents an extremely festive appearance with a huge Maypole in the centre and numerous Swastika flags flying over the grand stands erected for the occasion.

The total number of persons lined up in Lustgarten Square and in the streets along the "Via Triumphalis" is estimated to exceed 2,000,000.

On Thursday aeroplanes had already begun to arrive in the capital with delegations of workers from all parts of Germany. These delegations are participating in the May Day celebrations as guests of the Reich Government and are housed in the best hotels. On Friday they were received by the Chancellor at the Chancellery.

PRIZE WINNERS

A meeting of the Youth Organisation, which ushered in the day's festivities, was followed by a gala session of the "Reich Chamber of Culture" at the German Opera House in Charlottenburg district at which Dr. Goebbels announced the names of the winners of this year's prizes offered by the State for the outstanding achievements in the domains of film production and literature.

The film prize was won by film director, Carl Froelich for the film "Traumulus" based on the well-known drama by the late Arno Holz and in which Emil Jannings played the leading role.

The prize for literature went to Storm detachment leader, Gerhard Schumann in Stuttgart for a volume of poetry recently published. The ceremony in the Lustgarten opened at 12.30 with an introductory speech by Dr. Goebbels.

SENSATIONAL ADMITTANCE BY "LITTLE KWANGTUNG"

SHOOTING OF JAPANESE MARINE

Shanghai, May 1.

The sensational story of the killing of Nakayama, a Japanese marine, on November 9 last year, was told in the Special District Court this afternoon when two Cantonese, Yang Weng-tao, 47, an employee of the China Navigation Company, Yih Hai-sen, 28, alias "Little Kwangtung," an alleged Shanghai underworld character, were formally charged with murder. The third accused was ordered to be released.

Before a crowded court, Yih Hai-sen dramatically confessed to complicity in the crime.

He said that Yang approached him at the dance hall and asked him to assassinate an unnamed enemy. After discussion the couple accompanied a Korean and went to the scene of the crime at Hongkew where Yang produced a pistol from a cut-out book. When Nakayama approached, Yih stated, he refused to shoot, whereupon Yang took the weapon and fired.

MADRID HOTELS COMPLAIN

Constant Threats By Labour

(Hong Kong Daily Press Special)

Madrid, May 1.

The extremely difficult position which the Madrid hotels now find themselves in owing to the constant threats of interference by the Marxist Labour Syndicates, is revealed in a statement published by the Madrid Hotelmen's Association.

The statement declares that several hotels have already been forced to close their doors because representatives of the Socialists and Syndicalist Labour Unions asked the non-organised workers, under threats to cease work. The Association complains that nothing has been done so far by competent authorities to remedy the existing situation and announces its intention to protest directly to Premier Azana.

The statement furthermore points out that reinstatement of employees who participated in the October revolt has greatly increased the operating costs of the Madrid hotels and asks the Government to intervene immediately in the "illegal and immoral demands" of the Labour Unions, which threaten to ruin the hotel business completely.

RUNCIMAN DEALS WITH PEACE

Economic Relations Between Nations

REMOVAL OF TRADE BARRIERS

American Views At Dinner In London

London, May 1.

Mr. Walter Runciman, President of the Board of Trade, in a speech last night at the annual dinner of the Association of British Chambers of Commerce, said that Britain had one great advantage in regard to international trade. She was the greatest purchaser in the whole range of world markets. That was her strength.

Some people regarded the increase of her imports as a danger, but that was not his view. It was his firm belief that the rise in imports in the last two or three years had been an essential element in the country's recovery. Trade was not a one-way street.

Mr. Runciman also emphasised that they must adapt themselves to the new conditions and find a way of meeting the new problems with energy.

Proceeding he said: "There is one word I would like to say on the subject of peace. Peace is not to be gained through mere emotional appeal still less by effusive threats. Stabilization of peace depends upon the slow and careful building of a solid sub-structure of sound political conditions and healthy economic relations between nation and nation."

"The turn which economic issues take to-day in a large part spells the destiny of to-morrow. War or peace in our time may hang upon the choice which nations are now making of economic policy which is to rule the world."

AMERICAN POLICY

The American Ambassador said that the policy of the United States was based upon the belief that no nation, not even their own with its immense resources, could be wholly self-sufficient and that mutual removal of barriers against international trade, thereby increasing international co-operation was necessary for the well-being of the world and contained within itself the greatest hope for maintenance of peace.

As a rule nations were impelled to war by international economic distress. If that was true, and he believed it was, the surest method of preventing war lay in restoration of normal international trade, bringing with it a promise to the peoples of the world of a better standard of living and hope of fuller life.

VIEW COINCIDE

London, May 1.

Significance is attached to the coincidence of the official British and American advocacy of the removal of trade restrictions.

Mr. Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, addressing the Chamber of Commerce convention in Washington, declared excessive trade barriers were a major factor in the growing danger of world war and exhorted business men to give close attention to the world's economic distress.

In London, Mr. Walter Runciman, the President of the Board of Trade, speaking to the British Chambers of Commerce leaders, said the American Ambassador, Mr. Robert Bingham, who was present, represented a Government which wished to see a much freer flow of international trade, and insofar as the United States followed that ambition, Great Britain would be ready to co-operate.

PERRY-AUSTIN FINAL

Hard Court Tennis Championship

London, April 30.

Fred Perry has given very good evidence of his physical recovery this last week, the culminating test being reached to-day when he entered the final of the British Hardcourt Championships at Bournemouth after defeating A. C. Stedman, the New Zealander in three straight sets.

Perry, playing well within himself, won very comfortably 3-2, 6-2, 6-3.

H. W. Austin, who qualified once again to meet Perry in this championship final, dropped a set to H. G. N. Lee. It was a hard fought second set of twelve games, but Austin won the other three with the loss of but four games. The scores were 6-1, 5-7, 6-2, 6-1.

There were plenty of upsets in the ladies' championship to-day. Biggest was straight sets defeat of Miss Dorothy Round by Mrs. R. R. King, the ex-Wimbledon title holder winning but six games all told. Mrs. King took the first set at 6-4 and the second at 6-2.

Miss Peggy Scriven, regarded by many critics as being England's foremost player at the present time, was brilliantly defeated by the diminutive Senorita Anita Lizana, the Chilean champion. The Senorita, who last year won five important English tennis titles, won the first set at 7-5 and conceded the second at 6-2. But she came back strongly in the final round to win it at 6-3.

Miss Betty Nuthall, striving to make a successful "come-back" this summer, put up a brave showing against the meticulous Mme. Henrotin of France. The French player easily captured the opening set at 6-2 but had to concede the second by the same score. A thrilling contest took place for the final set before Mme. Henrotin won at 7-5.

Miss Kathleen Stammers enjoyed an easy success against Miss Susan

Noel, taking the first set at 6-2, and the second at 6-3.
The draw for the semi-finals is: Miss K. Stammers (G.B.) v. Mme. Henrotin (France). Sen. Anita Lizana (Chile) v. Mrs. R. R. King (G.B.).

GERMAN NATIONAL DAY

Local Celebrations Held

H.E. THE GOVERNOR ATTENDS RECEPTION

Yesterday the local German community celebrated the National Holiday. A series of events marked the day. First at the German Club a reception was given by the German Consul, Herr H. Gipperich, at 12 noon, which was distinguished by the presence of H. E. the Governor, Sir Andrew Caldecott.

At the King's Park Tennis Club a Children's Feast was staged in the afternoon, and in the evening, again at the city club, a dinner and dance, with an eloquent address by Herr M. Hess, local Party Group Leader, ended the day.

As all over Europe, the 1st of May, before the advent to power of Adolf Hitler in Germany, marked the day of labour demonstrations and class hatred. The National Socialist regime, whose aim it was to eliminate class warfare and Marxist street demonstrations, made the 1st of May the Great Day of the Nation, the day where rich and poor, employee and employer come together as members of the one great national family, the day where it is demonstrated that there is no more class hatred and warfare, because, there are no more classes. To-day in Germany on 1st May the streets are packed with demonstrators, but they do not any longer demonstrate against each other, but with and for each other. The 1st of May has become in Germany the day of peace celebration from the abolished war of class and party hatred.

CLUB RECEPTION

After H.E. the Governor had arrived punctually at noon, Herr H. Gipperich, welcoming the guests, said:

It is my privilege to-day and my very pleasant duty to extend a very hearty welcome to all our foreign friends and to thank you all, both on my behalf and on behalf of the German community of Hong Kong, for the honour you have done us by coming here to-day to join us in the celebrations of our National Day.

To-day is a reminder to us that the achievement of work for all is considered to be of paramount importance in Germany. We are not a rich country, except in population and the working capacity of our people, and it naturally falls, therefore, upon the Government to see that idle hands—idle whether by choice or necessity—are provided with as much work as possible. It will be a happy day for our Government and for our people when no able-bodied man in the country will be without work. Great strides have been made in the suppression of unemployment under our present leadership during the past three years but the economic and political confusion that has spread to all parts of the world has proved to be a serious impediment.

Our Government and every responsible person in the world is fully aware of the fact that satisfactory and remunerative work depends on peace, internally and externally, and it is with some satisfaction and pride that we are able to point out that the internal peace of Germany has not been disturbed by economic or political progress during the last few years. Externally also, Germany is happily at peace and is not involved in any conflict, although the road to a better international understanding may appear at the moment to be a stony and difficult one. I wish it were possible that the spirit of fellowship in this small British Colony could be spread all over the world.

A GOODWILL ON POLITICS

Since I had the honour to address you from this spot, a year ago, you have celebrated the King's Jubilee and have mourned the King's death, and I can assure you that no German in this Colony has not genuinely taken part in your joy and in your sorrow. The occasion of the visit of one of our ships, the first since 22 years ago, reminds me that not only the British Navy and Army but also the civilian population have been ready and willing to join us wholeheartedly in our joys. Is it not possible similarly to try and create a similar atmosphere of goodwill generally in politics and to restore neighbourly and friendly relations between all the nations of the world on the basis of equal rights and obligations? This is the object of German foreign policy which has been endorsed by the voters of 98 per cent. of the population in the recent Reichstag elections. I hope that the recent conformity of views shown between the Colony and a large section of the German community may continue to grow.

Your late King's son and our Leader, a man from the ranks, have both seen the hideousness of war and we know that they will throw their full weight into preventing a recurrence.

On this our National Day I may mention that the ruler of the British Empire has always shown a particular interest in labour conditions at home and we in Germany have frequently heard of the workmen's tenement houses and listened to the grievances of the British unemployed. They are a happy augury to us of the future understanding between the nations, and command a great respect from our people.

It is with great pleasure therefore, that I propose the toast of His Majesty, King Edward VIII.

The toast was honoured with enthusiasm.

THANKS EXPRESSED

His Excellency the Governor said: Mr. Consul-General, I hope that you will permit me on behalf of all your guests here this morning to thank you for your kindness in inviting us to this celebration of your National Day, thereby affording us the occasion for paying our sincere felicitations to you and Frau Gipperich and to all your compatriots in Hong Kong. I am particularly glad to have this opportunity of telling you and them how greatly we people of Hong Kong appreciated the visit to our harbour of your splendid warship, the cruiser, Karlsruhe. We all so much enjoyed the exchange of hospitalities and we formed a cordial friendship for her gallant Captain, his officers and men. It is indeed a happy memory that none of us will forget. I now ask you, ladies and gentlemen, to raise your glasses and honour the toast of the Reichskanzler and Fuhrer, Herr Adolf Hitler.

The toast was cordially honoured.

CHILDREN'S PARTY

At 4 p.m. in spite of the rainy weather, the German children assembled at the Kowloon German Tennis Club, where they were entertained to coffee, cakes and sandwiches.

Then games were played, which all the little ones heartily enjoyed, and at which even the parents and other spectators now and again joined.

Dancing round a maypole and ring dances were performed, the girls mostly being dressed in colourful spring dresses.

Later a Punch and Judy Show took place, and this, for children and grown-ups alike, was the climax of fun.

The whole German community with their friends again assembled at the German Club by 8 p.m., and were welcomed by Herr M. Hess, Local Leader of the Party Group. Herr Hess, in his welcome said: "I heartily welcome our guests and friends to-night. This is but a simple dinner, but most important is the spirit of unity amongst us Germans, and companionship with our foreign friends."

We have come together to spend the evening of our greatest National Day together, the day which for us Germans signifies unity and peace amongst ourselves, a spirit which we hope may soon spread all over the nations.

This is the first National Holiday that we spend together with our fully equal brothers on the Rhine, and we will therefore sing the "Watch on the Rhine."

After dinner, dancing went on to the music of the Hong Kong Hotel Orchestra. Folk Songs were sung,

YESTERDAY'S SHOOTING

R.U.R. IN LIMELIGHT

The second day of the "Services" Meet, the first part of the Annual Prize Meet of the Hong Kong Rifle Association, was conspicuous by the successes of the Royal Ulster Rifles. Their shooting was extremely good, winning as they did the first three places in the Platoon Match having entered only three teams for this event, and the first, second, third and fifth places in the Company match, which four teams were their only entries for this again.

The weather though dull, was not difficult from the shooting point of view, the light and visibility both being quite good. However, the rather fresh and intermittent wind caused some of the contestants no small bother.

The 1/8 Punjab Regiment simply walked away with the Light Automatic Event with the score of 88. The second score being only 32. Sgt. Warwick won the Decimal Target Prize with a total of 35 out of a possible 40 points. Lieut. J. R. Clegg Hill 2/R.W.F. and Rfn. Beazley 1/R.U.R. were the winners of the Egg Pool Competition.

To-day sees the end of the "Services" Meet and the beginning of the Association Meet, (the "Bisley" Competition). Great interest will be shown in the "Bisley" Meet as is evinced by the number of the entries, which total about 700.

"Rapid-Firing" and "Sharpshooting" will occupy the major portion of the morning as will the "Deliberate" take up the greater part of the afternoon.

SWISS FRANC FALL

H. K. STOCK EXCHANGE

YESTERDAY'S OFFICIAL QUOTATION

The past week, in our local market, has been a quiet one with only a very moderate amount of business passing in either investment or speculative stocks. The April Settlement was satisfactorily negotiated on Tuesday last and at the close appears to be a little more enquiry in evidence notably in Public Utilities and Industrials at improved quotations.

In the Philippine Gold Mining section there has been a fair volume of trading reported at slightly lower rates, but at the time of writing there are indications of recovery and possibilities of a more active market next week. Manila advices the Stock Exchange there is closed on Friday and Saturday, the 1st and 2nd May.

Now is the time to visit Australia & New Zealand lands of Sunshine and Romance. "Down Under" you will feel a new being and even if you are not inclined towards Surfing, Fishing, Shooting or Mountaineering you will find that the Antipodes have plenty to offer you.—including 25,000 square miles of sun and sea.

On the way down your life aboard will be as you wish, quiet or hectic for the E. & A. will honour your every wish.
And by the way, there is no additional charge for Deck Cabins and there is of course a Sun Deck Swimming pool, an Orchestra and a fine Landy.
A Surgeon and Stewardess are at your disposal, and last but not least—we had almost forgotten—the cuisine will set you listening eagerly for the Gong.
